How will it happen that Jesus will come again and lead us "through the gates"? Do you think that this will happen any time soon?

We have it from the best of authorities that the date of the world's end is hidden. Jesus said: "But of that day and hour no one knows, neither the angels of heaven, nor the Son, but the Father alone" (Matthew 24:36).

In spite of Christ's admonition that the day of his Second Coming is known but to God, there have been countless false prophets who have confidently but incorrectly predicted a date for the end of the world. Most of these foolish forecasters based their claims on their misinterpretation of the Book of Revelation.

Throughout history, many have attempted to use the Book of Revelation as a timetable. They misinterpreted symbols and numbers as a forecast of what would happen in their own century. Over and over again, such people have used Revelation to predict the end of the world.

The world might end tomorrow, in five billion years, or somewhere in between. Jesus tells us we can't know for sure. We are sure, however, that this world will pass away. And for each one of us the world will end at the moment of death. What matters is that we should always be ready to meet Christ, our Judge. And we shall be ready if we follow Christ, our Shepherd. Jesus leads us safely through this life by his teaching, his example, and his grace.

Who are the wise virgins and who are the foolish virgins in today's parable told by Jesus? Well, have you ever overslept? Has time ever run up on you suddenly, causing you to be late or to miss out altogether? I can think of times when I had a big event or project the next day, and when I went to sleep, I fell right off soundly. Great! I was tired, needed rest and fell right to sleep. ONLY to wake up one hour later and be restless, tossing in bed and only seeing the big red clock numbers read first 12:00, then 12:30, then 1:00 etc, until about 4:00 am, and THEN, I drop off into sleep until I am jerked out of sleep suddenly at 6:00 am.! "How did I miss hearing the alarm?" How does that happen? As a child often I recall that before a big trip or vacation, going to sleep was hard to begin. Maybe it is too much anticipated excitement. Or maybe, it is anxiety about too many last minute details. But, the night of poor or no sleep at all started the vacation off on the wrong foot. I think that is something like what happens with the foolish virgins. First, they have their lamps. Good! Secondly, they are in the right place to wait for the bridegroom. Good! But, they did not bring any extra oil, to keep their lamps burning, in case the waiting runs longer than expected. So, when the bridegroom shows up, the foolish ones miss out because they had to run to the market and buy extra oil. They were not prepared. Often my own sleepless nights which led to oversleeping, amount to my not being as prepared as I should. The racing thoughts of 'what to do first thing in the morning', and the undone little jobs to catch up before heading out the door consumed my mind --(like 'make sure to put the washed-towels into the dryer, set the outgoing mail in the box, unlock the garage for the delivery, unplug the coffee maker, etc, etc.). Who could sleep with all that running around in your head? So, what's wrong? Many of those tasks need to be done already. Now! Delaying, only introduces the added problem of 'mental preoccupation'. And maybe those things that cannot be done early, need at least a reminding note to be written and set out (to get the idea out of one's head, put it onto paper). This will flag the little tasks to do on your numbered list to ensure they are done in the morning. Thinking back to Jesus' parable, the key to 'unlocking' the wedding banquet door comes through the preparation. Being 'ready, set go', means being "Ready, Prep, Go!"

Hearing this parable, often good Christians immediately ask, "What ever happened to sharing? Why did the 'wise' virgins not share what they had?" Good point! To start an answer, we have to keep in mind that this parable is about end-times and individual judgement. Jesus tells this parable as a type of 'judgement scene', whether each person will be admitted to heaven (the wedding banquet) or not. I believe the issue comes down to realizing there are some things that we can do to help others with, and then there are some things that must be done by oneself and for oneself. For example, think of what we say about watering horses, "you can take a horse to water, but you cannot make him drink." I can study with you for the test, but when it comes to taking the test, you and I take it individually. Or with driving lessons, I can sit in the car with you, suggest directions, and give tips, but your hands on the wheel. You are the one in the driving seat! Some things must be done for oneself. I remember taking swimming lessons, and being told, "I will show you how to make your strokes, and move your feet, but you have to swim." My teacher could not swim for me! This 'individual' part of the parable comes clear to me through the detail of the individual lamps. The story would be different if there was a 'family-size group torch' or common light generator like a big bonfire, but in this parable each person has their own individual lamp. Why? For one's personal security (if you happened to be away from the group), but more importantly, the individual lamp was for one's personal identity, and being able to 'show yourself' identifying your face to another person. Think of the old movies when a guard/policeman runs into another person on a dark street, asking "Who goes there? Show your face". So to have one's individual lamp allowed for personal ID. "Lift your lamp, to show your face, and be recognized!" We do not open doors on a dark night without first having the porch light turned on, or the person themselves flashing a light up on their face to prove to you who they are. That is why in the parable the bridegroom says, "I do not know you". He can't see you without the light! Thinking of my own personal judgement appearing before God, that is the scariest thing God could say to me-I don't recognize you!

So what is the warning and 'call-to-action' for us from this parable?

Our extra lamp oil is our life of grace, our good, developed relationship to God already, and this relationship needs clear reflection in our life's conduct. We have to stock up NOW on this oil! This preparation is up to each person, individually. I have to work on it before that 'judgement test' comes! Other people can help me prepare. They can introduce me to Jesus, teach me to live a good life, show me how to pray and read scripture, but the actual judgement encounter with God is up to me! No one speaks or answers for me in this interview. I, and each individual soul has that one-to-one personal reckoning with God.

And what about those wise virgins and their sharing or not? They did what they could. They could offer tips to their friends on how to trim the lamp wick, how to hold the lamp just the right way to conserve oil, offer to re-light the lamp, and tell the other virgins who the best 'oil dealer' with bargains was, but when it comes down to having one's own personal oil, that is each person's responsibility. So our being recognized by Christ on the last day is a personal encounter that we have to prepare ourselves for by 1) daily deepening our relationship to God by staying in contact-our daily prayer and studying of Christ and 2) by faithfully modelling our lives on Christ's way of living, Christ's actions and conduct. The closer in relationship we are to Christ, the more likely He will 'recognize' us on the last day. Yet, also, consider this, if there is any tip, edge or shortcut to be had, maybe it is this: the more we model Christ, embodying his words and actions, (saying what he said, doing what he did) the more likely He will recognize Himself in us. As St Paul said it in Galatians 2:20 "yet I live, no longer I, but Christ lives in me", our being recognized by Christ amounts to us 'knowing Him in daily relationship', not waiting until the end to make an introduction. Having Christ's attitude in us, brings about His quick identification of us at the judgement door out of this world and into his heavenly kingdom!

Here are some daily questions to consider in our prayer time!

Sunday: As I leave Mass today, what am I taking with me? Did God speak a word to me that I can share with someone in this coming week?

Monday: Am I a prepared person, or am I a procrastinator? What can lead me to better plan and prepare and do in advance what I should?

Tuesday: Did I put off praying about yesterday's question? Simply start making a little to-do list for tasks you will face the next day? Even making a list helps.

Wednesday: As holidays approach, am I feeling peace and contentment or do I feel rushed and behind already? Pray today about living more in the moment.

Thursday: I fear Jesus' words 'I do not know you'. What can I do now to make myself more familiar to Jesus?

Friday: Perform a corporal work of mercy today for someone as an act of penance.

Saturday: Come to mass early and pray a rosary for world peace & conversion from sin.
Peace and Prayers, Fr Brian Johnson

PRAYER AND SPIRITUALITY

A Word from Pope Francis:

"To speak of a Christian contribution to the future.... means, before all else, to consider our task, as Christians today, in these lands which have been so richly shaped by the faith down the centuries. What is our responsibility at a time when the face of Europe is increasingly distinguished by a plurality of cultures and religions, while for many people Christianity is regarded as a thing of the past, both alien and irrelevant? The first and perhaps the greatest contribution that Christians can make is to remind nations that she is not a mass of statistics or institutions, but is made up of people. Sadly, we see how frequently issues get reduced to discussions about numbers. There are no citizens, only votes. There are no migrants, only quotas. There are no workers, only economic markers. There are no poor, only thresholds of poverty. The concrete reality of the human person is thus reduced to an abstract – and thus more comfortable and reassuring – principle. The reason for this is clear: people have faces; they force us to assume a responsibility that is real, personal and effective. Statistics, however useful and important, are about arguments; they are soulless. They offer an alibi for not getting involved, because they never touch us in the flesh. We must be personal". Office of Vocations
DIOCESE OF OWENSBORO

Called by Name

Do you know a future priest?

Do you know a faithful young man who may have a vocation to the priesthood? We believe that our future priests will come from our own parishes and schools, but we need your help to identify them. We're looking for high school students or older. During National Vocation Awareness Week, we are asking you to recommend young men whom you believe might have a vocation to priesthood. Any man you recommend will receive information from the Vocations Office and will be invited to participate in our discernment opportunities such as retreats and our vocation camp. Recommendations may be made online at vocations website:

<http://www.owensborovocations.com/called-by-name/>

Called by Name Program: Every young Catholic man should consider all vocations, including whether or not God is calling him to priesthood. However, if not invited or encouraged to think about priesthood, it may never be considered. Many young men may have the burning question within of God calling them to priesthood, but they may be waiting for a confirmation from someone else, to nudge them into seriously pursuing God's priestly call for them. Do you know a faithful young man who may have a vocation to the priesthood? We believe that our future priests will come from our own parishes and schools, but we need your help to identify them. We're looking for high school students and older. Any man you recommend will receive good information from the Vocation Office about discerning his vocation, as well as invitations to discernment retreats and other events. Tell Fr Brian, Deacon Mike or Deacon Tony, to approach them or to invite the vocation director to reach out to them.

THIRTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME Attention!

A consistent theme of these weeks leading to Advent is akin to the motto of the U.S. Coast Guard: Semper paratus: "Always ready." For what? The military remains ready for threats or disasters like a tornado or flood, but Jesus' call to be ready always is neither a threat nor a prediction of catastrophe. It is his expectation that we be aware of the presence of the sacred as we move through even the most ordinary day. Mary Oliver suggests the same in her poem "The Summer Day": "I don't know exactly what a prayer is. / I do know how to pay attention." Being prepared for the coming of Christ means keeping eyes and ears, hearts and minds open. The sacred, the Christ, is all around you.

TODAY'S READINGS: Wisdom 6:12-16; 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18; Matthew 25:1-13 (154). "Stay awake, for you know neither the day nor the hour."

MEMORIAL OF FRANCES XAVIER CABRINI, VIRGIN
Trust your calling

The Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart, the religious institute founded by the first U.S. citizen saint Frances Cabrini (1850-1917), say that it is not what Mother Cabrini accomplished or how far she traveled that made her a great missionary saint. It was how she allowed God to accomplish remarkable achievements in and through her. Her immense love of God empowered her to reach out to the poor, the needy, and immigrants. Mother Cabrini, no doubt, was confident that she was doing only what she ought. Pray for such confidence.

TODAY'S READINGS: Wisdom 1:1-7; Luke 17:1-6 (491). "If your brother sins, rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him."

Don't expect applause

Obligations can often feel like thankless drudgery: going to work, cleaning the house, feeding your kids. A lot of the time it seems like no one notices, much less gives you a pat on the back. While it's important to be grateful for the ordinary things others do, be careful not to expect kudos yourself. We're called to be servants if we follow Christ and treat others as the brothers and sisters they are. Remember that the things you are responsible for—your job, your house, your kids, and even your fellow men and women—are all gifts, and good work is always its own best reward.

TODAY'S READINGS: Wisdom 2:23—3:9; Luke 17:7-10 (492). "We have done only what we ought to have done!"

MEMORIAL OF ALBERT THE GREAT, BISHOP, DOCTOR OF THE CHURCH

God is mysterious, naturally

Albert was known for his vast knowledge in all areas of learning. He was Saint Thomas Aquinas' tutor, a man skilled in all the sciences of his age. Albert did not fear science; for him there was no contradiction between what he learned about the natural world through scientific observation and what he believed as a person of faith. People of mature faith have nothing to fear from scientific observations and methods. The more we learn about the natural world, the more we will appreciate both the limits of our own understanding and the mysterious ways of God.

TODAY'S READINGS: Wisdom 6:1-11; Luke 17:11-19 (493). "He ran ahead and climbed a sycamore tree to see him."

MEMORIAL OF MARGARET OF SCOTLAND
Make a difference for the good

If you think you can't make a difference, remember Queen Margaret of Scotland. A refugee from the Norman invasion of England, Margaret was a pious queen who sponsored Christian hermits and Benedictine monks, cared for the sick, and built hostels for the poor. Especially during Advent and Lent, she held large feasts for the common people in the castle. She even summoned a council to undertake reforms in the Scottish church, the decisions of which were known as the "Five Articles of Margaret." Consider how you can use your influence and resources to work for positive change.

TODAY'S READINGS: Wisdom 7:22b—8:1; Luke 17:20-25 (494). "The kingdom of God is among you."

MEMORIAL OF ELIZABETH OF HUNGARY, RELIGIOUS
Do good, regardless of the reception

During her marriage to the German prince Louis, Saint Elizabeth of Hungary (1207-31) gained a reputation for generosity to the poor and sick. But Louis' family was hostile to Elizabeth and her open-handed ways, and when he died in an epidemic, her enemies sent her and her children into a life of poverty. After recovering from this blow, Elizabeth, inspired by the example of Saint Francis of Assisi, established a small house of hospitality, and for the last years of her short life served the poor, the elderly, and the sick. It's ironic how being generous can make a person unpopular. But there is never any shame in serving Christ's poor. Make a habit of helping the aged, ill, and destitute around you.

TODAY'S READINGS: Wisdom 13:1-9; Luke 17:26-37 (495). "Whoever seeks to preserve his life will lose it, but whoever loses it will save it."

MEMORIAL OF ROSE PHILIPPINE DUCHESNE, VIRGIN
Own your authority

Business guru Peter Drucker said, "Management is doing things right; leadership is doing the right things." We see this principle at work every day: in the boss who motivates her staff by speaking authoritatively rather than imposing her authority, in parents who earn their kids' respect rather than demanding it. Persistence was key for Saint Rose Philippine Duchesne (1769-1852), whose religious order was scattered by the French Revolution, who then made a grueling trip to the U.S. frontier to work with Native Americans. Reflect on what it might mean to be more authoritative in your own life.
