An antiphon in the Christian breviary states, "The angel Gabriel was sent to the Virgin Mary, who was engaged to be married to Joseph" (December 20). Was she married or not when Jesus was conceived?

Much of the confusion is due to what constituted marriage at the time of Jesus.

Mary was betrothed to Joseph when she was found to be pregnant through the power of the Holy Spirit. During the usual betrothal period of a year, the woman remained with her family. However, the bond between the couple was already as permanent as marriage. That's why Mary was legally known as Joseph's wife, even though they didn't yet live together or have all the rights belonging to a husband and wife. In fact, the arrangement during betrothal was so binding that it could only be terminated in divorce.

Moreover, in that patriarchal society, a betrothed woman who had sexual relations with anyone other than her husband was accused of adultery. Had Joseph ended this betrothal in disgrace, Mary would have been deprived of marriage for the rest of her life and dependent on her extended family upon her father's death. But Joseph was an upright man who intended to divorce her quietly without publicly stating the reason, in order to spare Mary and her family's reputation. That's when an angel appeared to him in a dream and told him to have no fear about taking Mary as his wife, for the Child was conceived by the Holy Spirit (Matthew 1:20). Fr. Byron Miller, CSSR

Suddenly, the angel Gabriel appeared to Mary. After surprising and calling her by name, he said, "Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God" (Luke 1:30). So many angel appearances in the Bible begin with those words! "Do not be afraid!" I always wonder why. I'd think an angel visit would be exciting fun, with me responding "Glad you came Angel, since you are here, jump in we've got a lot to do!" But I have never had an angel appear to me, so who am I? Angels have agendas and missions from God, so it would be my arrogance to re-direct and put to help an angel of God! Angels are God's messengers, not my or any human's messengers. But again, what about that 'Do not be afraid' We all know there are different types of fear. For example, there is the 1) 'I am about to die-Fear', and the 2) 'This is so weird-I've never seen anything like this before-what do I do now Fear', and the 3) 'I am standing in front of a crowd and my mouth won't open-Fear', and even the 4) 'I am not living up to God's call for me-Fear', and even the 5) 'I am afraid this job is not going to end well-Fear'? All kinds of fear! So, let's ask what kind of fear in Mary Gabriel is softening or comforting by his greeting to her. Since she is 'full of grace' her fear wouldn't seem to be a timid personal fear. More likely it was simply the startling sight and experience of a dazzling angel appearance! Perhaps she gave Gabriel a ponderous look, with the expression on her face saying so humbly, "I am afraid I don't understand why you would appear to 'simple, little me'. If her facial expression was one of wonderment and holy awe that would explain why later she puts into words her astonishment, "How can this be, as I have no relations with man?" She was saying to Gabriel, "I trust you Gabriel, and I trust God, but all of this is beyond me." "God and you have chosen me? This is happening to me?" Of course, her strong faith and attitude of perfect humility comes out when she gives her final answer saying "I am here to serve God. Let it be done to me accordingly" (Luke 1:38).

When I was in college I heard for the first time a performance of the hymn 'Gabriel's Message' by STING. I found it sublimely 'haunting' in a beautiful way. The first lines are 'The angel Gabriel from heaven came....His wings as drifted snow....His eyes as flame' If he visited me, I would fear the combination on Gabriel of 'drifting snow wings and flaming eyes'. Have you ever seen snow on fire? The singer Adele may be able to 'set fire to the rain', but what about setting snow on fire. One time I did! My brothers and I were splitting fire wood in the yard, and as I was leaning over the log-splitter, I looked up to see my brother trying to put out a layer of fire burning across the snow-topped yard. He was shoving more snow over it, after having spilled fuel by the fire he'd lit to keep warm! But I think just seeing an angel involves such a 'suspension of ordinary experience', that the event would cause anyone to step back and shudder. In fact, a review of angel appearances in the Bible shows that perhaps the most frequent first words out of the mouth of angels are "Be not afraid". Luke 1:13 has an angel saying "Do not be afraid, Zechariah..." Luke 2:10 has an angel saying to the shepherds in the fields, "Do not be afraid! For behold, I bring you good news of great joy". Acts 27:23-24 tells of an angel appearing to St Paul and saying, "Do not be afraid..." And at the resurrection scene in Matthew 28:2-5 says "an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, approached, rolled back the stone, and sat upon it. His appearance was like lightning and his clothing was white as snow (there's that snow and fire theme again!) the angel said to the women "Do not be afraid! I know that you are seeking Jesus the crucified....." So, every angel appearance begins with words of reassurance and comfort to introduce God's good message to the recipient and His good acts being set in motion. And Mary receives news of this divine plan and places herself completely in God's service through her obedient response! Mary is not afraid, Mary trusts her Savior. She says to God, "I am your handmaiden – My life is yours."

And, "Perfect love casts out all fear" (1 John 4:18). The apostolic motto of St John Paul II was "Totus Tuus". He meant it to signify his consecration to the Blessed Mother (inspired by the life/writing of St Louis Marie De Montfort), and his desire to mirror the servant life and receptive disposition of Mary. As Mary gave her all to the Lord's Service, St John Paul II imitated her example of making a complete 'self-gift' of himself to God. From St De Montfort's consecration prayer we read, "All that I have is yours. O Mary, place within me your heart." Mary is The Model Disciple. Her humble lowliness and the willingness to place herself last and least is reflected in her response to Gabriel's message, "I am the handmaiden of the Lord." The word 'handmaiden' implied complete and total subservience to the direction of the master, like saying, "I'm always at your hands" or even "I am your hands". This accounts for Mary adding, "Let it be done according to your Word". Her attitude was, "God, You say it and I do it!"

Pope Francis recently addressed an audience (11-23-2017) of First order and Third order Franciscans in Rome, and he challenged them to always choose the Christian role of 'Minority'. We should not be afraid to be 'little', 'unknown' or 'poor'. Maybe Francis is only introducing a new word 'Minority' for what we in church have always called the 'preferential option for the poor' or the exercise of 'authority as service'. Francis asks us "Are we Christians, models of giving to others, or just taking for ourselves?" Do we demand our own rights, or do we protect the dignity of others' rights? Do we collect and 'appropriate' for our own security, or do we trust and freely give away to another for their good?" Pope Francis went on to point out that our 'Hidden and Humble God' came to save us by appearing, born among poverty on the move, finding home to be wherever there was an open space! Are we open to this encounter and communion with the powerless servant child Jesus and his lowly mother Mary? Pope Francis describes this perfect discipleship of 'Mary following Jesus' as a spirit of 'non-appropriation' or 'minority', avoiding all superiority! Like Mary, to follow Jesus, we humble ourselves, lowering our position to serve and assist others. Matthew 18:3 "Unless you turn and become like children, you will not enter the kingdom of heaven." Jesus' birth reveals this pattern of 'chosen minority'. A humble child open to being held in the arms of another, trusting and depending on the care and communion of others. And Mary follows, exemplifying this lowly dependence and trust in her prayer, "I am the handmaiden of the Lord, let it be done to me according to your Word" (Luke 1:38).

Here are some daily questions to consider in our prayer time!

Sunday: Did I receive a call or challenge in my prayer at Mass today? What remained with me after Mass?

Monday: Practice Patience! We Christians need to set the example of 'non-hurried' peaceful celebration of Jesus' birth!

Tuesday: Does Mary's humility move me to imitate her? How can I humble and lower myself to serve others better?

Wednesday: Am I preoccupied with any fears? Is my lack of trust in God's care to blame? Pray for greater trust.

Thursday: Count your blessings. Have I been grateful enough to others for their care and service?

Friday: Perform an act of penance and sacrifice for the good of someone else today.

Saturday: For what am I going to Mass this weekend for to thank God, and to ask of God's grace to accomplish in the new year?

Peace and Prayers, Fr Brian Johnson

New Missalettes With Mass Prayers in Front Cover:

Please note that the missalettes now contain on the inside front cover the longer prayers we offer at Mass, similar to the old Mass cards that were in the pew holders. The company beginning to offer those prayers in a more accessible place conveniently replaces now those older cards that were showing so much wear and tear. But like a good Rosary, Bible or Prayer Book that shows tattered edges and wearing, it is a good sign of them being used so much! More Prayer, More Grace, More Good!

Good Samaritan Center is in need of diapers sizes 3, 4, 5, and 6. Please put in baskets at the doors of the church. Thank you.

PRAYER AND SPIRITUALITY

A Word from Pope Francis:

"Jesus bestowed upon the Church His healing power... The Church's mission to the sick is a response to Jesus' gift, for she knows that she must bring to the sick the Lord's own care, full of tenderness and compassion. Health care ministry will always be a necessary and fundamental task, to be carried out with renewed enthusiasm by all, from parish communities to the largest healthcare institutions. Doctors and nurses, priests, consecrated men and women, volunteers and families take part in this ecclesial mission. Jesus, healed the sick as a sign of the abundant life of the Kingdom, where every tear will be wiped away. How often Jesus sought out the sick, touched them and brought them the comfort of presence and healing. Jesus' heart is open to all and excludes no one." (Homily 12-11-2017)

AROUND AND ABOUT

Catholic Faith Information: Please check out and pick up any of the free pamphlets and booklets in the back of church about Catholic teaching and practices. They are excellent resources from the Knights of Columbus about our faith beliefs!

Called by Name Program: Every young Catholic man should consider all vocations, including whether or not God is calling him to priesthood. However, if not invited or encouraged to think about priesthood, it may never be considered. Many young men may have the burning question within of God calling them to priesthood, but they may be waiting for a confirmation from someone else, to nudge them into seriously pursuing God's priestly call for them. Do you know a faithful young man who may have a vocation to the priesthood? We believe that our future priests will come from our own parishes and schools, but we need your help to identify them. We're looking for high school students and older. Any man you recommend will receive good information from the Vocation Office about discerning his vocation, as well as invitations to discernment retreats and other events. Tell Fr Brian, Deacon Mike or Deacon Tony, to approach them or to invite the vocation director to reach out to them.

Al-Anon Meeting: Mondays 7:00 pm St Romuald Parish Hall. Come find support and understanding to recover a sense of serenity in your life.

Senior Group Christmas Celebration!

Sunday, Dec 24, 2017

FOURTH SUNDAY OF ADVENT, CHRISTMAS EVE
Yes, yes, yes!

2017 can seem like a litany of bad news. Floods, famine, and earthquakes. Conflicts, threats, and shootings. Headlines fixed our gaze on horror, relentless as it was real. Our personal lives may be just as anxious, logging illnesses, financial upsets, imperiled relationships. While it's natural to recall difficult events in blazing detail, it takes more effort to compose a litany of good news that's just as true. Give yourself a present that will last all year. Begin a grace box, jotting down something wonderful you hear, see, or receive every day. You'll have 365 reasons to be merry next year!

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Samuel 7:1-5, 8b-12, 14a, 16; Romans 16:25-27; Luke 1:26-38 (11). "And coming to her, the angel said, 'Hail, full of grace! The Lord is with you.'"

Monday, Dec 25, 2017

SOLEMNITY OF THE NATIVITY OF THE LORD (CHRISTMAS)
Word is spreading!

Words are powerful things. They encourage love, underscore hate, and kindle fear. Words create reality because what we speak does take on flesh and live with us. Have you not wished for the chance to say what was left unsaid, in a moment that is gone forever? When God spoke a word into being in Genesis, the whole world resulted. Later, God spoke Divinity into Mary's body and the world was saved from itself. This Christmas, give voice to your heart and say what needs to be said to those you love.

TODAY'S READINGS: Vigil: Isaiah 62:1-5; Acts 13:16-17, 22-25; Matthew 1:1-25 (13); Night: Isaiah 9:1-6; Titus 2:11-14; Luke 2:1-14 (14); Dawn: Isaiah 62:11-12; Titus 3:4-7; Luke 2:15-20 (15); Day: Isaiah 52:7-10; Hebrews 1:1-6; John 1:1-18 (16). "And the Word became flesh and lived among us, and we have seen his glory."

FEAST OF STEPHEN, THE FIRST MARTYR
Follow Stephen's lead

Some things, we feel sure, are impossible to forgive. But then we reluctantly recall that Jesus forgave his crucifiers, and Stephen, the first martyr of the church, forgave his murders in faithful imitation of his Lord. Believe it or not, today Stephen (d. 35) is known as the patron saint of masons and bricklayers—a strange role for a man who was stoned to death! Yet, why not? We are all pledged to bless those who curse us. What better way to do that than to take up the cause of your old enemy? Pray for your persecutors today.

TODAY'S READINGS: Acts 6:8-10; 7:54-59; Matthew 10:17-22 (696). "You will be dragged before governors and kings because of me."

Wednesday, Dec 27, 2017

FEAST OF JOHN, APOSTLE AND EVANGELIST
Time to see the light

Today is a day to celebrate the unique perspective on Jesus the writings of John have to offer. In particular, light and darkness. John sees Jesus as the light of the world, and so it is customary to light candles on this day. As the evening falls today, light a candle and say a favorite prayer in honor of the One who said, "I have come as light into the world" (John 12:46).

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 John 1:1-4; John 20:1a, 2-8 (697). "The life was made manifest, and we saw it, and testify to it."

Thursday, Dec 28, 2017

FEAST OF THE HOLY INNOCENTS, MARTYRS
Stand up for the least of these

No sooner do we celebrate the birth of one baby when the Bible recalls the slaughter of other babies. Like the infant Moses before him, the Messiah escapes to Egypt with his family. Let's not look the other way as this reading comes up each year, but let it be a reminder: Children still are victimized by adults who abuse their power—personally, professionally, or politically. Let's change that. What can you do today to be an advocate for children? Check out .org for some ideas.

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 John 1:5—2:2; Matthew 2:13-18 (698). "Get up, take the child and his mother, and flee to Egypt."

Friday, Dec 29, 2017

MEMORIAL OF THOMAS BECKET, BISHOP, MARTYR
Get your priorities straight

In the 12th century, Thomas Becket, the archbishop of Canterbury, stood firm against King Henry II in the latter's efforts to establish himself as absolute ruler over everything in his kingdom, including the church. Becket's refusal to submit to the king's ultimate authority cost him his life. The stakes are not always that high in the tensions between church and state, but people of faith must prepare themselves for difficult choices. Be clear about which of your loyalties are temporal—finite and fleeting—and which are eternal—everlasting and true for all time.

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 John 2:3-11; Luke 2:22-35 (202). "This child is destined to be a sign that will be opposed so the inner thoughts of many will be revealed."

SIXTH DAY WITHIN THE OCTAVE OF THE NATIVITY OF THE LORD

We all have a role to play

Anna is one of nine female prophets noted in the Bible. She was also a widow who spent most of her life in the work of worship and proclamation at the temple. This was unusual, because in Hebrew tradition, widows were more often looked upon as problems: Who would marry them, support their children, and feed them? In the early church, the fortunes of widows were reversed. The holy office of widows became an honored station in life. Those formally consecrated as widows became ministers of charity, freed from accountability to men as they used their own wealth, traveled, and played a vital public role in the community. How might your station in life be "consecrated"?
